Preface

God carried the broken world to God and God was annoyed that God came to God. So, God split himself into good and evil to reduce His conflict... This is the basics for all the World's religions, myths and stories... The origins of the Angels and Demons Feud, the source of the bonds of entrapment and enslavement.

One moment I was doing so well in my master's program in the United Kingdom, getting in my assignments and course works and generally having an awesome time with gaining insightful knowledge on Business management. I got a great job opportunity and Life was full of prospects. I was excited... Next moment, I was having a mental breakdown and losing my mind completely. I couldn't really pinpoint why I was upset mentally and emotionally. Everything seemed to be going fine, but why was I breaking down?

Although I completed my course of study, I returned to my home country with nothing, and I suffered from insanity for the next 10 years. Going in and out of admissions at a psychiatric hospital. Was I insane or confused?

This eBook is a collection of messages from the paranormal/divine/God/Source Code... Some are visions of a past-life in which I was present but not present, some are deep trance sleep revelations, some are crazy thoughts.

Some of the messages seem weird, some are just impossible, while some still hold true to this day.

I hope it means something to the reader. I hope you find clarity and wisdom in its pages and contribute your own quota to the achievement of a better world.

Chapter 1

The Divine Split of God

The first life changing experience that made me aware of the spiritual nature of our world and the use of bonds was once when I heard a voice in my head say,

'Mi Almushalacash nee Almushalabash, Commander of the host of Angels in the Northern Star. I am the voice of God'

I wasn't certain about the direction or true meaning of the voice, but I started to see things differently, I developed a different perspective on life and my life changed.

The more I tried to understand, the more confused I became, till I let it go and started to dump my thoughts on social media pages as posts or comments. I wanted to unburden myself and give the responsibility of correction or change to someone else. Someone who could answer all my questions and solve all my problems.

A knight in shining armor or superman, If I can make that kind of allusion. I just didn't consider myself worthy of receiving a divine message or being an agent of change.

My life was a mess. I was bankrupt, I had no job, I was in and out of psychiatric care. I was addicted to marijuana, and I was becoming increasingly dependent on alcohol.

'Oh, leave me alone, I need to find a good job' I thought to myself as I tried to neglect and ignore the importance of my messages.

At first what was being transmitted to me was frustrating but gradually it became clearer and more meaningful. I started to take note of hidden meanings behind symbols and things. I started to hear messages in music and movies. I started to frequently see the divine codes 111, 1101, 1011.

It took me a long time to piece it all together. Meanwhile, I was also trying to have a professional career and become a musician. I wrote loads of songs and some books.

I would provide snippets of the messages the way I received them, and I would try to explain their meaning through real life examples.

The first message relating to the divine plan or programming of mankind is a reference to the divine split of God or the source of life.

God carried the broken world to God and God was annoyed that God came to God. So, God split himself into good and evil to reduce His conflict. This is the basics for all the World's religions, myths and stories. The origins of the Angels and Demons Feud, the source of the bonds of entrapment and enslavement.

The division or split of God into good and evil is referenced in many literary works and films. These examples represent extended manifestations of the divine split.

Good	Evil
Light	Dark
Angel	Demon
Werewolf	Vampire
Elves	Orcs
Fairies	Witches
Organic	Scientific

You've probably heard or read about the various historical, religious or mythological conflicts like Jesus vs Lucifer/Satan, Thor vs Loki, Werewolves vs Vampires, etc.

This divine split is explicitly portrayed in movies like Star Wars where the white uniform armies fight against the dark uniform armies. It is also expressed in the movie 'The lord of the Rings' where white wizard Gandalf's elf and human forces fight against the evil orcs' forces of dark lord Sauron.

Most cultures also have different representations of this divine split and most holy books acknowledge that man was created in the image and likeness of God.

In Calabar, a city in southern Nigeria, new-born twins used to be abandoned in the 'evil forest' and left to die, because it was believed that one of the twins was the son of the devil. The townspeople weren't sure which one was the devil's child, so they decided to always kill twin babies.

It was Mary Slessor (a Scottish Presbyterian missionary to Nigeria) who worked towards the abolishment of the infanticide of twins in Nigeria. There are several other cultures around the world with the stories or myths of troublesome twins e.g. 'Thorgeir and Thormod', 'Thor and Hermes', and 'Apollo and Artemis'.

If you observe twins closely, you'd notice that one of the twins is usually more outgoing, bold, confident, sexy or more adventurous than the other twin.

A mischievous twin might also be known for framing the other twin up for mischievous deeds.

The differences might differ in twins because in a set of twins, the angelic essence might have more dominance while in another set of twins the demonic essence might be more dominant. Sometimes both essences can be Angelic or demonic.

Please note that this shouldn't be a reason for discrimination because I refer to angelic and demonic essences as a way of differentiating character traits according to the divine split of God evident in all men.

In summary, we are all majorly either a representation of the dark or light side of God. However, this 'Dark' or 'Light' classification shouldn't be defined along religious or biased terms. This means that it is not only twins that carry evidence of the divine split of God, as was erroneously believed by the primitive cultures.

There are various tests available online to help decide if you're more of a creative (intuitive, feelings) person or a rational person; more of an organic or scientific person; or more of a right-brained or left-brained person.

These tests of differences also provide evidences of the divine split manifested physically in human attributes or characteristics.

Historically, scientists used to be considered demonic, devilish or witches because of crazy experiments and strange unacceptable discoveries. Some even ended up prosecuted in horrible ways by religion and society.

Therefore, we can claim that the Angelic are organic and more feelings motivated beings while the demonic are scientific and more rational motivated beings.

The religious and historical acknowledgements of ‘fallen Angels’ as punished beings or beings who went against God’s will is flawed.

Flawed, because the angelic essence in human vessels has always been a part of the creations’ plan or divine programming.

In modern times, these differences are supposed to be physically expressed as Organic and Scientific differences. Somewhat like a selection or differentiation into Arts and social sciences and Physical sciences classes used in schools.

Although not to be taken literally, because we don’t want people to think every science student is a demonic essence vessel and every arts student is an angelic essence vessel. Hope you get the point?

Examples of memory essence carrying expressed physically in modern times include the transmission of an ability to fly by witches or wizards into modern aeronautic technologies.

Bionic sciences are also a sought of inherited trait from super strength entities of our history.

In medicine, the ability of martial arts experts to numb and disable their opponents can be transferred to medical sciences which study the interconnectivity between nerve centers and the brain.

We are all here to carry out the work of building the physical plain and ascending into the heavens through space exploration. However, this heavenly ascension can only be successfully achieved when earthly balance is right.

Balance can only be achieved through freewill. The freedom of women to give love freely without harassment.

Chapter 2

The Feud

Man is made in the image and likeness of God and 'God split himself to reduce his conflict'. This implies that every man is majorly a representation of either the dark or light side of God.

However, the conflict between both sides continued in the physical realm and is manifested in several forms through pre-historic times, documented history, legends and myths, stories and religion etc.

In 2014, I received the following message from a daydream trance in the form of a poem.

In the beginning, it was the Angels and the Demons

The Angels and the Demons

It was a simple game, just a simple game

A game that led into a fight, a fight into a brawl

A brawl for eternity

Excuse me your highness, the children are weeping

Holla mon cherries, can I be your commander

It's not right what you see

My duty pacify man...

Yes, sometimes I break out in songs like memories that turn out to be meaningful messages. Most of them I can't remember because my desires to become a musician didn't actualize as I had envisioned.

I used to write a lot of lyrics like this on social media, before I deleted most of them, because I didn't want negative reports on my background checks for job applications.

Another message came to me relating to a demon, called Asmodeus.

Asmodeus is a demon noted in the Geita (Keys of Solomon). According to controversial history, Asmodeus is said to have deceived King Solomon with a covenant that enabled him to usurp the 'Original Kings'.

In my daydream trance memories, Asmodeus, made a pact or covenant that put all angels to sleep. However, the covenant was made under the promise that the sleeping Angels wouldn't be cheated out of Love!

The decision to put one side of God to 'sleep' arose out of the incessant conflicts that both sides had. These conflicts stood in the way of a cohesive development plan which was expected to ultimately ensure ascension to the heavens through space travel.

However, the battles between both sides were focused on greed, acquisition, and a quest for supremacy. Demon lords and Angels alike wanted the ultimate title of 'God' by conquering as many territories as they could.

We are not exactly sure how the bond to put angels to sleep was made or decided, but it aimed at ensuring peaceful co-existence between good and evil. A yin-yang flow.

There are various movies and stories that depict these conflicts, although not entirely accurate and sometimes based on fantasy.

There are movies like 'Morbius', 'Star Wars', 'Lord of the Rings', 'Underworld', and 'Twilight'. Basically, any movie or story about the fight between the forces of good and evil is a representation of this dilemma.

Even internal conflicts in making wrong or right decisions also represent the struggles between good and evil.

These tussles affected co-habitation and balanced building of the physical plain of life. The feud between the Angels and Demons affected the human race's journey.

The decision to put Angels to sleep has controversially led to various concepts like the terms; 'Fallen Angels', 'the Sleepers', and 'the Watchers'. This simply means that those humans who carry the 'Angelic essence' of God are unaware of occurrences behind the veil of life.

Whatever the 'veil of life' means to you is based on your level of awareness and mindfulness. Same with what you think about God, because some perceive a heavenly father seated on a throne, some see a source code of knowledge (Nicolai Tesla), while others see a binary code of creation as in computer programming (1101, 1110, 1011). Some also believe in the universe, and some believe in evolution. It's all about perception.

There's a divine presence that's not religious but more of a guide towards the successful attainment of the human journey and the general balance of life on earth. For God consists of both good and evil. Even the religious books claim that all things were created by God.

Chapter 3

The origin of the bonds

Its not too clear how or where the bonds of entrapment and enslavement originated from. Although, my daydream trances, revelations, and messages hold various clues for various times and locations.

Under the previously described recollections of demon Asmodeus. It seems to have origins related to King Solomon, but this is not accurate enough, because King Solomon belongs to a more recent history than the period of tussles between the angelic and demonic manifestations.

In this scenario, the Asmodeus pact was made to ensure peace, but the sleeping side were not to be bothered by the 'doings or activities' of the spiritually woke side. However, the clause involved ensuring that the sleeping won't be cheated out of Love.

Like most demons, Asmodeus turned out to be a deceitful trickster, because angelic women became forcefully entrapped and enslaved for ages.

In another revelation, I got the following message.

‘I made a sacrifice to ensure peace, to ensure our peaceful co-habitation and progress in the physical plain of the world. I let go of love despite the pain and torture. You should respect that; you should respect that’.

Trances like memories and messages place in the position of a pre-historic or primitive entity. In this one, I was Archangel Micheal trying to warn the demons of his submission to a peaceful treaty and how his love was wrongly stolen in breach of the acceptance of peace.

To put this in proper perspective, you can imagine a peace treaty where an opponent decides to lay down his weapon and then suddenly gets attacked by the opposing side.

In another daydream like trance, I was an African god-king called Ogun. A prehistoric god in Africa, whose attributes of thunder and lightning are like those of Nordic god, Thor.

Ogun as a king was betrayed by four of his top commanders and placed under bonds, while his betrothed bride was stolen and enslaved.

In Ogun’s revelation, Ogun was cursed by the elder gods to win true love without power to defend it, but he ended up betrayed by his four friends. Who used the powers they had obtained from him to bond women to not give love to the powerless. Women became bonded to the humiliation and tortures from a system under the guise of protectors. A system of forcefully making women unlovable.

The story of Ogun is the subject of a different book titled 'The curse of true love'.

In yet another daydream like memory trance I got this statement.

'My loving sister has become an annoying sister because she has let her demonic children make a fool out of me. Even though I made a sacrifice to free them from their bonds prematurely'.

In this scenario, I was in the form of an Adamic being with a sister representing the demonic side of God. This then implied that the demonic children were in bonds to control their activities.

However, the loving sister had made a pact with her brother to free her children from the painful controlling bonds, and he accepted but requested that she ensure to control them.

Well obviously, like the demon Asmodeus revelation, the brother was also disappointed by the result.

These are the four major scenarios that have come to me in daydream trance-like revelations and past-life memories. They all point towards the bonds of entrapment and enslavement placed on the angelic essence carriers. They portray a story of the deceitfulness and cheating of the evil side of God, the demonic vessels.

The human vessels of Arch-angelic women, Michaela, Gabriela, and Raphaela (1st) are prominent on the screens of cinema movies and porn. You can find various examples of such movies on the blog pages of www.filmnoir.ca.

These indecent exposures of humiliating nudity are one of the many methods of symbolizing the entrapment and enslavement of angelic women. Most of which must be done under duress from the pain of bonds. The bonds of entrapment, bonds designed by the demonic vessels to ensure that angelic women do not give love to angelic men.

The systems and fraternities, including traditions, culture, and religion were developed out of a need to keep the angelic men enslaved while their women are entrapped to the amusement of the demonic essence vessels.

It is a very painful and betraying feeling when it first comes to light and one can't help but wonder how the demonic essence vessels sleep at night, knowing that their brothers and sisters are entrapped and suffer unjustly.

Afterall, prehistoric and primitive times of confusion can't be compared to modern eras of education and technology.

How have they been so insensitive towards the pains and sufferings of others?

Chapter 4

The meaning of Love

The Angels and Demons fought for supremacy. However, the highest angels soon realized the true nature of creation's plan and grew weary of the incessant battles with the demonic.

With this realization came a need to ensure peaceful progress and cohabitation among both sides. The peace treaty required that the angelic be put to sleep.

The sleep state would be a sought of hibernation, where they couldn't use their special spiritual powers to challenge the demonic essences.

Women through time have been objectified as a sex symbol. A prize for success or victory. Many battles in history cost the life of the king and the enslavement of the queen.

Women then became like a sought of reward for supremacy. In addition, the blessing or wealth of men are tied to the acquisition of women. The acquisition of the love of women.

We sometimes ask; what is love? How do you define or describe love?

Historically, Love has been given a bad name. There are tragic references to love like Dracula and his brides and the most famous reference to love being the tragic story of 'Romeo and Juliet'.

Even professional musicians sing lines, like 'I'd be your Romeo, you'd be my Juliet' or 'Can I be your Romeo'. They do this without considering the tragic ending of the Romeo and Juliet story.

Love, a concept supposed to be positive, and rejuvenating, becomes more associated with tragedies and sadness. The question is why?

The African memory story of Ogun gives a little insight into how bonds were placed on love to prevent a fallen king from reclaiming his rightful position.

These bonds appear to still be very much active in our world today, and you'd only notice it based on your level of awareness. For ignorance is blissful.

Ogun's apparent betrayal led to a series of events which I believe created this problem of associating love with tragedy or sadness. Thus, Ogun became a tragic hero because each time he is reborn, he consciously or subconsciously avoids associating with power or powerful systems to win love without power to defend, but each time he is hindered by the system of society, apparently promoted by his betrayals.

So if Ogun becomes frustrated enough to take up arms, his battles either win or lose still end in tragedy. Because, taking up arms goes against the declaration of being powerless to win true love.

I believe that the 'four' cast a spell on love as a means of preventing Ogun from breaking the curse of the elder Gods and restoring the balance of things and this spell has manifested through society in various ways.

It is pertinent to note that, Ogun is an African version of the Arch-angel Micheal essence. For those who have become aware of the distribution of humanity by reincarnation and multiplication.

Doppelgangers all over the world are becoming more noticeable as communication technology, especially social media, progresses.

For a better definition of love, I believe that youthfulness is for building and in maturity you settle with what you have built. Therefore, love is an expression of youthfulness that should often lead to maturity in marriage.

This is not to say that all loving relationships should end in marriage, but it should at least prepare you towards having a life partner.

So why is true youthful love so elusive? Well, my thoughts on that might be controversial and biased based on my own life experiences.

However, based on current systems of enslavement and entrapment it seems that there is a systemic process by which the woke demonic cheat the sleeping angelic out of love.

Love is the creative essence carried by women. Love is the motivation and rejuvenation in the journey of life. The substance by which greatness is built. Love can be reinvigorating, energizing, and motivating for partners leading to the achievement of success in their life's pursuits.

The cheating of the angelic has created numerous problems which accumulated over time and are now reflected in ecological damage to our natural environment of earth.

The global warming and climate change scourge reflects the cheating and depletion of the angelic essences, who carry the organic side of God.

The most obvious and pressing needs created by this problem are the current issues of 'Gender equality' and 'Global Warming'.

Yes, global warming is because the organic environment is directly or indirectly affected by the inability of the angelic essence to develop and build whatever they were divinely or naturally supposed to achieve in this physical plain.

There are three popular phrases in the world right now; 'Gender equality', 'Global warming' and 'Woke or Awake'. Gender equality refers to the need to grant women freedom to be independent in society and rated as co-equals with males. This reflects a sub-conscious desire to love freely, rather than being bonded by demonic tenets to serve a system of fraternities compulsorily.

Global warming and climate change are an off shoot of problems arising from the depleting natural/organic environment.

Woke refers to the realization of the true system of things hidden behind societal veils which also infers an awakening of the sleeping angelic vessels. Several articles on the blog website, www.filmnoir.ca, provide insights into hidden meanings behind various scenes in movies.

Some holy books and prophets prophesied that in the last days, the Watchers would be awoken. This concept of the Watchers or fallen angels just simply refers to the Angelic or organic side of God, who were put to sleep to ensure peaceful co-existence.

So, love has a bad name and bad references in tragic stories like Romeo and Juliet, or the tragic end of notable loved singers like Micheal Jackson, Whitney Houston, Amy Winehouse, etc.

However, tragic events are not the best way to benchmark or describe love. I had a beautiful trance past life memory which I think offers a better description of what love is.

In the trance, I was to partake in a game of death like football or soccer, but the match was between the Gods (or humans) and some terrifying opponent that destroyed everything in their path with such brutality that most who competed before me were dead.

When the evil army came, they were so powerful that nothing could destroy them. I mean 'NOTHING' could destroy them. Everyone tried on the field, but one by one, everyone fell to their strength.

Everyone who fell became a member of the destructive force, like zombies they were turned.

When it was time for love to compete, Love cried in fright; 'Oh God, I am dead' but his love replied, 'No, you're scared'.

Yes, he was scared, so he did nothing, but lo and behold, only 'NOTHING' could destroy the evil force...

Well, in the game you played to defend your queen and your city. Just like chess, checkmate wins, others disperse, and this land is ours...

So, we see that sometimes doing nothing or acknowledging that we can do nothing about strange experiences is also equally important. Not everything requires strength or power. The story just goes to show the importance of love, the implication that weakness can sometimes be a strength

The trance wasn't so clear, but it felt so real and yes, that's what love is. A pillar of support to keep you strong when you feel weak.

The memories are vague because I believe they refer to a past life many years ago and pre-historic. Pre-historic!!! Imagine that a memory from before recorded history. Little wonder that my life is unstable.

I have had special moments in my life, once I was in a practice football match. I had the opposing defenders charge at me because I was receiving a pass in a dangerous position. I closed my eyes in fright, expecting the pain of injuries, but when I opened my eyes, everyone was on the other side of the pitch, and I was standing alone. 'NOTHING' is sometimes everything. It is good to acknowledge that you can do nothing, and you are powerless against certain experiences.

My life has been unstable since my first heartbreak back in 2008. Although, it was the same old heartbreak love story, laboring for love while not being confident enough to demand for sex.

I indulged in hard manual labor (Scaffolding) because I was still a student and gave everything I had to the relationship for 4 years without sex, but I was naive about the system, and I only ended up jilted.

It felt like my whole world crumbled and fell apart. I took to hard drugs, became depressed, contemplated suicide and languished in self-deprecation.

Even worse, I kept looking for love, like I wanted to hide my shame but only ended up getting more heartbreaks.

Then my self-deprecation turned into annoyance. Especially when I realized I was only being played by secret systems and everyone around me began to look like a liar and a deceiver. A part of the plan to make a fool out of me.

I hated my friends and family; I hated anyone who tried to calm me down or make me patient. I felt deceived by everything. I contemplated murdering my own mum, it's shocking and absurd but I hated women, and I felt like I was singled out to be deceived or to suffer punishment.

I even considered being gay (homosexual) but became put-off by it because I find it very discomfoting just sharing my bed even with my own brothers.

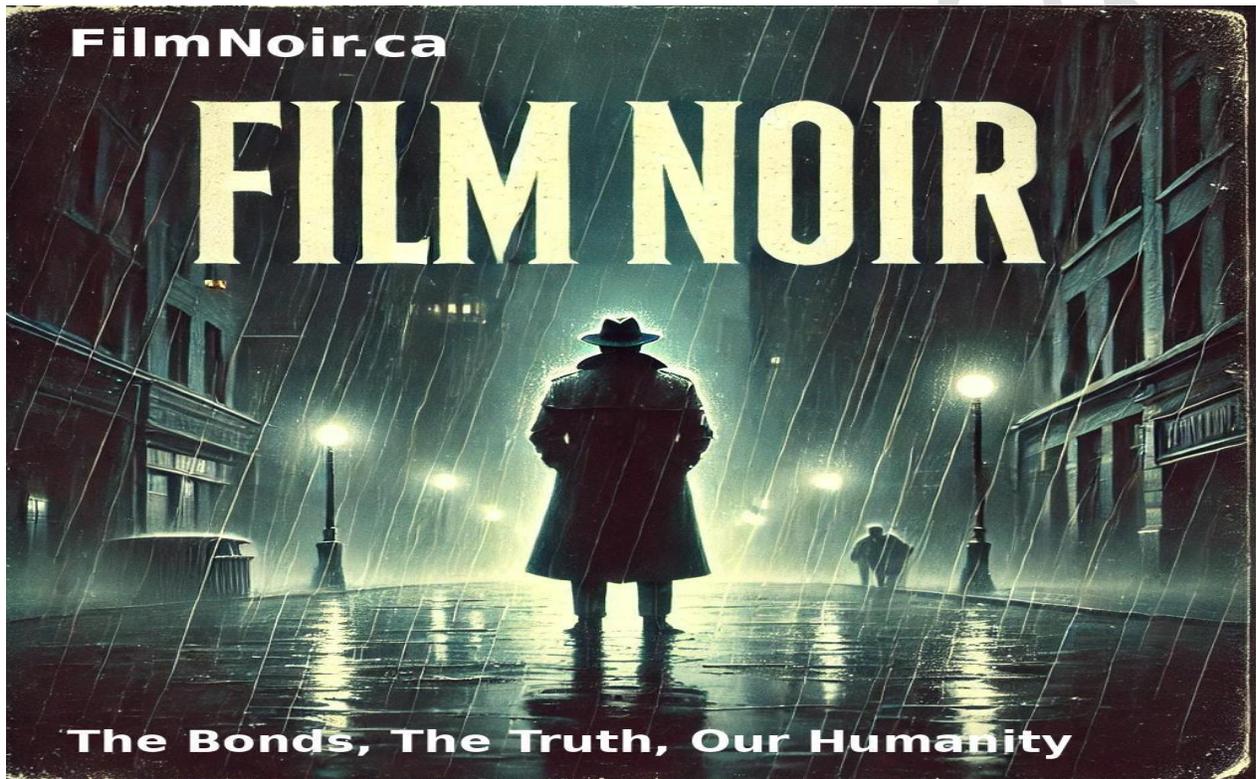

It's difficult to explain the jolt of negative emotions but thank goodness I was educated to 'master's level, and my rationality always overpowered my emotions.

At this point I started to understand the type of feelings that motivate mass shooting crimes in several parts of the world and fatal domestic violence situations.

My eyes became opened to the problems of awakening the sleeping Angels to the true system of things which cheat them out of love, especially if such individuals are uneducated.

I am still a bit unstable, and I think it will be very difficult for me to fall in love or have a female partner to live with because I still fight sudden jolts of unexplainable emotions.

This is one of the reasons why I decided to create a platform for the enlightenment and education of the sleeping. The online platform (www.filmnoir.ca) was launched on the 15th of October 2024. The website uses hidden meanings (subtle inferences) of societal ills to provide life lessons for young adults.

Chapter 5

Not all that is Dark is Evil

We are all made in the image and likeness of God. 'For Ye are Gods'. As has been previously explained, we are all bits and pieces of the divine being. Each of us carries a trait from God.

Thus, man is a God able to create and make life changing decisions, capable of reasoning and discerning between good and evil, but the heart of man is desperately wicked.

Man's wickedness is evident in so many situations around the world; slavery, child labor and sex trafficking, Wars, Genocide, Starvation, terrorism, murder, robbery, corruption etc.

In the spirit realm, there are no limitations. The female and male spirits have no shortcomings in abilities. However, to carry out the work of building this physical plain and ascending into the heavens according to the plan of God, the spirit essences are transferred into human vessels which have limitations.

Furthermore, to be able to carry out the duty of procreation, women were made a weaker vessel to allow for flexibility in childbearing. So, God made a divine promise, that the woman won't be oppressed by the man due to her weaker nature and every woman would have a right to love without coercion or under duress.

To ensure that the woman won't be discriminated, oppressed, or relegated by man, she was given the key to a man's success. Therefore, women are the key by which men open the door to success. This innate ability of women has been exploited by the systems of entrapment and enslavement.

Greed men seeking to be superior to others chose to entrap and enslave as many women as they can and use the women as bait or systems to enslave other men. From observation and research these systems appear to be one-sided in favor of the demonic essence carriers.

The basic tenets of these demonic bonded systems are as follows.

- The destruction of love – Love is forbidden.
- The enslavement and entrapment of women – Women are forbidden to give love to non-members.
- The angelic do not benefit – Even if they become members their only further enslaved. Men are not given fruits of women, and women cannot leave the system with any money made serving.

- The worsening – Members are bound to no remorse, so any complaint is meant with a worse reaction.
- No shame – Women are forced to accept disgrace as a blessing.

These systems ensure that the innate attribute of women are exploited and that angelic men remain slave. In essence, entrapped women are humiliated and punished through acts of nudity and in modern times BDSM.

BDSM and public nudity are primitive practices that included public executions and a ‘walk of shame or walk of atonement’ in the past. Some examples are explained in the blogs on the website, www.filmnoir.ca.

Angelic men are bonded by lust and masturbation to poverty and subservientness. The use of the entrapment of Azazel under the bond to be first is also a tool to ensure that the angelic do not rise out of subservientness.

However, as an Archangel who was deceived by the demonic. Azazel is most likely Archangel Raphael and he is most likely trying to fix his bonds and lift the angelic back to their rightful glory and position.

The story of the Azazelean bond is in another book available on the website.

The failure to keep the promise of true love by freewill is a major reason for the imbalance in our world. There are several historical accounts of tragic lovers and love which was cut short to sustain the systems of wrongness and exploitation.

In a pre-historic story, the sea God, 'Poseidon' desecrated the Goddess of war, 'Athena's' temple by raping her maidens. This made Athena furious and insulted, so she went to the supreme God to complain and was given powers to reaffirm her domain.

These powers enabled her to turn Poseidon into a stone underneath the sea. She then gave selected women the power to transform into beings that can turn oppressive men into stone. These beings were called 'Gorgons'.

Gorgons represent the promise that the woman won't be oppressed by men and forced to love. Although, history has painted them as monsters that should be put to death. Thus, man has struggled with confusion and misdirection through time.

In certain cultures, Gorgons are associated with menstruation. The association arose because powerful men wouldn't rape or take advantage of a woman during her period. Just like no man could rape a Gorgon. The Gorgons were known to turn men who came to their island or lairs into stone statues.

There is also a memorial in China called the terracotta warriors who appear to be soldiers turned into stones. There's also an unopened temple close to this memorial site. Which might hold secrets untold.

I had a daydream, where I thought the terracotta warriors were really men transformed into stone. I also have tormenting feelings of Gorgons being killed in my own society. Although I have no evidence or proof of these feelings, yet they feel so strong sometimes that I'm moved to tears.

When God, the divine, makes a promise or proclamation, there must be something to withstand it. Even if it is but one person then it would represent hope that the promise would be kept.

However, if there is no single trace or person to represent the divine proclamation then all hell breaks loose, and balance is destroyed.

Strange occurrences like Covid 19, Earthquakes, Tsunamis, Gender equality issues, Global warming and climate change are all problems arising out from the imbalance in the world.

Man has been derailed overtime with little mistakes which accumulated overtime supported by fabricated histories and indoctrinations to wrongness. Stories of our humanity were misunderstood, evil became good, and wrongness was generally accepted.

Our human existence and world have had many cycles. We have all done this before, we have all lived this life before, we have failed in the human race before. Everything was destroyed before a new cycle started all over.

There's nothing new under the sun. All the evidence of modern technology including space travel are documented as cave drawings in primitive cultures from places like India, Sumerians, and African tribes. These primitive cultures provided evidence of the cycle of life.

It is time to return to the true direction, free love and grant women independence to restore balance to the flow and system of life. The proper direction of creation's plan.

Chapter 6

The Problem of Love

Ignorance is bliss. So many people think they are in love but they're only just settling for what seems comfortable.

In the story of Ogun, Ogun was cursed to restore balance to life, and he returned to the physical plain to reclaim his powers from his four acquaintances. He was however betrayed and murdered and he keeps returning through reincarnation to try winning true love without the power to defend it.

The four betrayers know Ogun is trying to win love, but they fear his wrath of retaliation for all the years he's been wronged by them. So, they keep creating systems that prevent the development of love. These are the genesis of female entrapment, cults, gangs, wars, rapes and every other system that seeks to prove dominance by de-humanizing or enslaving women.

However, the achievement of true love should not be taken literally as a magical experience that would lead to the freedom of all women, because it only serves to symbolize that women can give love freely. It serves as a testament to the freedom of women.

Even most 'coming of age' initiation ceremonies present women as the price of becoming a man. Women are invited to strip naked, dance nude and partake in sexual intercourse with the new initiates or those who have successfully completed the rites of passage.

These rites of passage and initiation ceremonies are however designed to discriminate and eliminate angelic men.

All these primitive exercises are a corruption of the true human journey, and a method used to cheat the sleeping angels out of love.

Most of these cultures and activities seem fashionable and modern now. For example, nude clothing, also called the naked dress is considered high fashion.

It all seems acceptable, but the underlying issue of imbalance is too severe to ignore. We are talking about the problem of Noah and the implication of Mother nature restoring balance by herself through global catastrophic destruction.

Don't get me wrong, I'm not saying there aren't women who really like to strip naked to the admiration of males or get paid for sexual activities as a profession, but it shouldn't be forced on anyone.

Meanwhile the organic essence, being the obedient angels that they are, seek the face of God in religion which advises them to wait for marriage.

Marriage is not love, but rather a partnership made in maturity to sustain the cycle of life. Most marriages aren't fun, but a sacrifice to build the future by raising and directing children. This is not to say that people aren't happily married or that partners don't have fun, but it shouldn't be misconstrued as a solution to the bonds against freewill to love.

Subconscious reactions are evident in most life forms on earth including humans because all living things have a sixth sense connection to mother nature. For example, animals in the wild start to panic and act erratic long before a natural disaster occurs due to a premonition ability developed in their sixth sense.

This natural premonition or sixth sense is behind the movements of gender equality, global warming and cries of the 'Awakening or Woke'.

The problem of Love is evident in several aspects of life. We have seen loving musicians like Michael Jackson, Whitney Houston, Tupac, XXXTentacion and Amy Winehouse who passed on rather unnaturally. We've had traumatic and tragic stories of love like the Romeo and Juliet story that leave a deep yearning but insatiable desire in us.

Love's problem is in the hands of the continuous misuse of the bonds of entrapment and the systems of fraternities which selfishly exploit women.

If youthful love is truly the creative force behind prosperity and there's a spell on Love that prevents it from being expressed. Then the temporary solution to getting Love (creative essence) would be to not love.

This attitude of getting love by not loving is a reverse psychology tactic manifested by most fraternity systems. Consequently, the initiated man is taught to behave nonchalantly and be even irritated by the young lady but creates an enslaving desire in her from her entrapment bonds.

Furthermore, most women tend to subconsciously enslave who loves them as an indirect way of preserving love. While supposedly 'wise' men create a system of rejecting love to avoid being enslaved by it.

I mean I have seen countless internet videos of women being dehumanized, pissed on, sexually disgraced and all forms of rejecting emotional connections. Even though the women appear to be active participants in the rejection of emotional love, it's still only a temporary solution to the problem of Love because it implies that we are building a world without Love.

God is Love, so what would the world be without God. The global clock is ticking tik tok, tik tok, tik tok, and the cries of climate change and global warming are getting louder but no one wants to be a victim. No one wants to bell the cat!

Who would be willing to let go of the financial benefits of the system, lose investments and lose finance because of a concept he can't really grasp or that has no direct influence or consequence on his life.

More importantly, why would those who chose to be right need to lose. Everyone is affected by the wrongs and everyone, even those who exploit it, should contribute efforts to its correction.

Balance to life in the Cosmos, especially our solar system is largely based on balance in the foundations of 'Earth'.

The Problem of love; A problem with prehistoric roots yet still so evident in the present day is a problem to be tackled and solved with wisdom, tolerance and understanding.

The most important thing in the world right now is to break the spell of enchantment on 'Love', so that our women, mothers, sisters, wives, and daughters can be free from pain and humiliation forced upon them.

That is, for a man to be able to win true love without the use force, coercion, or by symbolizing that he has power to defend it, through membership of fraternities.

However, it isn't a magical spell (Abracadabra/Alakazam) where everything returns to normal and global warming and all associated problems just vanish into thin air, rather it is a test of human systems a reference to the sustenance of freewill.

Every human has a divine purpose or task he is to fulfill as a contribution to the human journey. Thus, a system that restricts freedom, especially of the weak, would be a hindrance to the divine plan.

It is also quite possible that man is self-programmed. That is, we programmed our own selves from the beginning of time to successfully achieve the human race journey, but something happened, and we became confused and started to fight the programming we ourselves created.

Our human journey is written in DNA codes that serve as reminders through various means. For example, through music and art or spiritual substances like the flight of witches or the superpowers and abilities of primitive fighters. DNA codes were later transmitted as aeronautic sciences, technology, and modern medicine.

Some of the things humans are still capable of would be more relevant in the future as science progresses.

People might claim that 'you fight for what you love' but I don't think women should be classified as 'what'.

What I love may be music, clothes, films, animals or any inanimate object but 'Who' I love is a human being capable of choosing someone else and I would be disrespecting that right to choose if I choose to fight for it.

However, in our present times, one must be willing and ready to defend what or who one loves.

If you understand the reincarnation and multiplication of life through time. Then you'd understand the importance of creating a better world for our future selves to enjoy.

Restoring balance without violence is of paramount importance because violence only begets violence and brings about a chain of destruction that hinders progress.

'YOU SHALL NOT PASS' - That is the bond placed on wrongness. Consequently, until humanity corrects the wrongness and ills done to love, and the angelic and demonic can peacefully co-exist before we would be successful in our attempts at Space exploration and populating the cosmos beyond our milky way galaxy.

Free yourself from bond entrapment

Chapter 7

How to free yourself from the bonds of entrapment

Sex is a pleasurable activity. It is one of the many pleasures of life that is supposed to keep us happy as we embark on this long and rather slow journey of building the physical aspect of creation's plan.

The major reason people get entrapped is through sexual activities. Young girls get initiated or abducted, and young men aim to join the system so that they won't be deprived of its many benefits which include sex from young loving women.

If the world was balanced and everyone had more than enough of what they need. Most people would prefer having sex freely without entrapping attachments and most people would fall in and out of love freely.

The world would be a beautiful peaceful place with both essences (Demonic and Angelic) carrying out their duties according to their inbuilt skills and abilities.

However, the situation of entrapment and enslavement of young adults has led to various means and tools of humiliation, pain, and torture as a way of overcoming the bonds against love. These bonds or fire entrapment sometimes have a manifestation of extreme pain in the form of a very painful rash, invisible whips, floggings, or burns. Some of the methods used to neutralize or overcome the pain of bonds are described below.

- 1. Public Nudity: These include stripping, dirty dancing, naked dress or slutty dressing and other acts of indecent exposure. The concept behind it is to make women unlovable by being slutty. The drawback is that the woman might need to keep being sluttier until she's ultimately unlovable enough to not break the bonds.
- 2. Pain and Torture: Pain and torture given to the entrapped angelic in pre-historic times included the use of whips, canes, fixed spikes, and painful position of bondages. In modern times this concept is accepted as BDSM sex. Although some torture chambers still exist in different parts of the world.
- 3. Physical alterations: Physical alterations like tribal marks and cultural initiations marks were primitively used by tribes in primitive Africa and the Brazilian amazon. They involve the use of painful disfiguring marks on the body of the initiate including the face, stomach, back, hands, and feet. Such practices are still available in certain uncivilized parts of the world. In modern times, these practices are in the form of tattoos, piercings, and plastic surgeries which alter the appearance of the recipient to a rather odd and unnatural look. It serves the same basic idea of making the person unlovable.

- 4. Fights and quarrels: Couples who fight and quarrel incessantly are not in love. The use of fights and quarrels to symbolize unloveliness is evident in some relationships such as domestic violence. The only drawback is that it could lead to severe physical harm or fatalities. Moreover, it is bad for children to be raised under such influence.
- 5. Moisturizers: Body moisturizers also provide a cooling effect on the pain of bonds. It is also a viable civilized method for overcoming bonds. However, it sometimes requires nudity as a supplement. The only drawback is that a woman who is lovable is a target for the system who are activated by bonds to prevent the bond from being broken.
- 6. Cold baths or Ice baths: Cold or Ice baths are just like moisturizers, provide a cooling effect on the skin to overcome the pain of bonds. It is also one of the viable civilized methods for overcoming the pain of bonds.

To Free Yourself from Bond Entrapments

Honesty is the best policy; this is a universal truth. Honesty is the best policy because the systems thrive on secrecy. That is why they require secret initiation ceremonies.

A problem shared is a problem half-solved. So, talk to someone, but make sure it's the right person. Someone like your own mother would want the best for you and can offer the best advice because she has equally been in that kind of situation in the past.

The only drawback is that the system members use bonds to checkmate such confession, and you might find yourself confessing to someone who would worsen your situation. Beware of fake friends, even those who might pretend to be a fool around you could be placed to monitor your affairs.

One thing you mustn't do is use violence. You must shun violence, at least to a reasonable degree. Violence is like fuel to the demonic, and their positions of authority and coordinated systems make it almost impossible to correct the bonds through violence.

As of the year 2024, the only civilized methods for overcoming bonds are the use of moisturizers and cold baths. Nudity, BDSM, and body alterations are primitive practices that relegate humanity to a level of the uncivilized tribes in history.

The only way to truly overcome the bonds of entrapment is to not get entrapped in the first place. The only drawback is that you might be discriminated against in society and find yourself at a disadvantage to the rest of your peers. The rejection of the system is highly dependent on the balance of society. The balance of society would ensure ample opportunities for those who aren't interested in promoting or sustaining the systems of wrongness.

There are also hidden practices used in spiritual enslavement like some which were explained using movies on our blog. For example, in the movie 'The Student' we observed strippers being bonded to a harvesting gangbang because they picked up money that some rich customers pretended to lose. This was also the case in the movie 'The Immigrant' where the protagonist stole money from a contribution hat and became bonded to a life of sex slavery.

Other indirect methods for entrapment include the use of fruits, or money left unattended. For example, you could be sharing a flat with a demonic essence and he'd often leave food like Tomatoes, Apples, Oranges, or Strawberries or frozen foods in the fridge that you might be tempted to take. Our world is quite spiritual, and bonds are made in the spirit over little affairs that we consider inconsequential.

Considering this, the only true way to free love, to free yourself is to not become entrapped in the first place.

If no one pays for sex, because no one needs to be paid, and if no one joins the system of entrapment, then there would be no need for bonds and the bond master's would finally let go of their wrongs. They would no longer be powerful because they wouldn't have slaves to symbolize their powers, even though they could still act spiritually but they would not have the authority to physically and arrogantly implement their wicked acts.

In this sense, this eBook would have a greater impact for the next generation. For through enlightenment and exposure the next generation would be weary of our wrongs and take necessary steps to avoid and checkmate them.

The bond masters would finally be free of their enslavement practices as they let go of the misuse of bonds to entrap and enslave young adults. Even they would finally find love.

Free love, free humanity, free the world.
